Military Training At Collegeville Is Possible Says Dean

More than a vague rumor, according to the Rev. Dr. Henry Lucks, C.P.P.S., dean of studies, is the possibility of campus military training at St. Joseph, sponsored by the United States government.

Father Lucks based his statement on the discussions he heard at the National Conference of College and University Presidents on higher education and war, held last week in Baltimore.

Army Training At College

At that meeting, Brigadier General Lewis Hershey, head of the Selective Service System, and Robert Patterson, Under Secretary of War, intimated that an army official may be appointed to outline a compulsory military training program for all colleges.

The added advantage will be, of course, in the fact that young men will receive military training as well as the regular college education.

Educators, Father Lucks stated, pledged themselves to keep alive a respect and love for education even through the hard years of war. They pointed out that education is needed now more than ever before since wars are being fought more with brain-power than with manpower.

All Out For Defense

Excluding Brother Dave, Dick Hoshaw, of Rensselaer, is the first St. Joe man to give up his car for a bicycle. Dick astounded his fellow students by pedaling to the campus from town early this week.

Doctor Theodore Bernard Frank, formerly one of the biggest executives in colorful Vienna, has joined the faculty of St. Joseph's College as a professor of modern languages. Doctor Frank will teach French and German.

The doctor of law and social sciences, a graduate of the University of Vienna, can speak English, German, French, Spanish, and Italian.

"America Is Wonderful"

In America only five months, Doctor Frank has this to say of it, "America is wonderful in comparison with Europe in its normal state of affairs, and even more wonderful in comparison with the present conditions of Europe. I am tremendously impressed by the size and quantity of American institutions, schools, hospitals, bridges, railways, and by the high standard of the life of the farmers and laborers." He said he was also deeply impressed by the kindness which every foreigner enjoys when he comes to America. As to St. Joseph's, he said that he liked it very much.

Doctor Frank was an executive of a large wood distillation plant, a director of the Societe Continentale de Gestion, a holding company which stretched over central Europe, and an executive of the Austrian Bank of Credit in Vienna.

Captain In First War

Serving as a captain in the field artillery in the Austrian army, he fought against Italy in the first World War; and after the armistice, he was appointed by his government to work out the economic terms of the peace treaty between England and Italy.

The doctor was also a close friend of Austria's former presidents, Dr. Engelbert Dollfus, who was assassinated by the Nazis, and Dr. Kurt Von Schuschnigg, who was captured.

Five Seniors Take Degrees At End Of First Semester

With the close of the first semester five seniors—Jack Murray, Bob Lechner, Jim Ikovic, Al Ballard, and Joe Toth—decided to take diploma in hand and go forth. In keeping with St. Joseph's new streamlined school program, the seniors, having sufficient credit hours and the required amount for their major and minor sequences, were permitted to graduate after three and a half years in attendance.

As yet only the first two of the above mentioned conquered their last mile, Murray having passed an oral comprehensive examination and Lechner having submitted a thesis entitled, Anthology of Catholic Authors. Al Ballard and Joe Toth must go before the examining board tonight. Ikovic has not as yet arranged for his examination.

One Hour Comprehensive

Each student taking the comprehensive spends an hour with the querrying profs. Half is devoted to the major subject and the remainder divided between the two minors. The board is composed of a professor from each of the student's fields.

Jack Murray, who hails from Chicago, Ill., majored in history and minored in English and philosophy for his Bachelor of Arts degree. Joe Toth, a South Bend, Ind., boy, and Al Ballard, from Loretto, Ky., will both receive Bachelor of Science degrees, the former with a biology major and chemistry and English minors, and the latter as a chemistry major with biology and English minors.

Bob Lechner, a community student from Nebraska City, Neb., who joined the order after entering the college, majored in English and minored in French and philosophy for his Bachelor of Arts degree. Jim Ikovic, Gary, Ind., will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics with accounting and English minors.

"The students who graduate now will receive their degrees dated Feb. 5, but their names will be included in the May graduation exercises with the rest of their class," said the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Lucks, C.P.P.S., dean of studies.

Dig New Well In Search Of Non-Sulfurous Water

A new well is being drilled southeast of the kitchen with the hope of obtaining non-sulphuric water for the kitchen and especially for drinking purposes. At the present the drillers are thirty-five feet down.

O'Reilly New Senior Student Councillor

Last week Edward O'Reilly, a senior from Chicago, was elected by the senior class to succeed Jim Ikovic as a member of the student council. Ikovic graduated at the end of last semester with a B.A. degree. The council will meet in the near future to choose one of their number to succeed Ikovic as president.

Tentative Dates Set For March 17 And 22 As Plans Take Shape

According to the Rev. Dr. Paul Speckbaugh, C.P.P.S., moderator, the Columbian Literary Society will produce Gordon Daviot's "Richard of Bordeaux," March 17 and 22.

Based upon the life of King Richard II, who ruled England from 1377 to 1399, "Richard of Bordeaux" is a two-act tragedy with 11 scenes.

The theme of the production is the conflict of the idealism of the King and the materialism of the court and the diplomatic circle. Twenty-one men and 4 women are required for the cast.

Lavish Spectacle Play

"Richard of Bordeaux" is a lavish spectacle play, the first of its kind to be produced on the stage of the College Theatre since the Rev. Eugene Luckey presented "Cyrano de Bergerac" in 1937.

The play was first produced some eight years ago. John Gielgud, famed Shakespearean interpreter, was responsible for the London production. Dennis King produced it in the United States.

Tryouts Being Held

Tryouts for the male roles are being held in the College Theatre. Already cast in various feminine roles are Avalyn Lane, Joan Wood, and Anita Putts, who will appear through the courtesy of the local C.Y.O. unit. The role of the lady-in-waiting is yet to be cast.

Production plans are moving forward under the direction of William Pietz, who is in charge of designing and building the sets.

Bill Pietz In Navy

Bill Pietz, a senior from Ft. Wayne, Ind., passed the physical examination for class V-7 of the United States Naval Reserve the other day and has been sworn in. This makes a total of seventeen St. Joe students in the Navy.

Phase Out In April Says Editor-In-Chief Ikovic

"We will try to have this year's edition of Phase published before April 1, so that all graduating seniors will receive a copy before leaving," said Jim Ikovic, senior, editor of this year's annual.

All faculty and student pictures have been taken. A few organization pages remain unfinished. Except for basketball and a few minor activities, the enlarged sport section is complete.

The theme of this year's book will center around life at St. Joe, in which religion, classes, studies, sports, and other activities will be featured. The cover design of the annual will be the same as last year with a different color scheme.

Cooperation from the various organizations in picture taking is asked by the staff. Snapshots of various campus activities would also be appreciated if submitted for publication.

Pictures of St. Joe men in service will be a special feature of this edition.

Sultans Of Jive Play Raleigh Club Dance

Charles Hankish, president of the Raleigh Club, has informed STUFF that it will be impossible to bring in girls from an outside college because there are no rooms available for the girls while they are here.

The committee in charge of the date bureau is seriously considering asking the feminine members of the local Rensselaer C.Y.O. to be the dates.

The dance committee also announced that St. Joe's own Sultans of Jive will furnish the music.

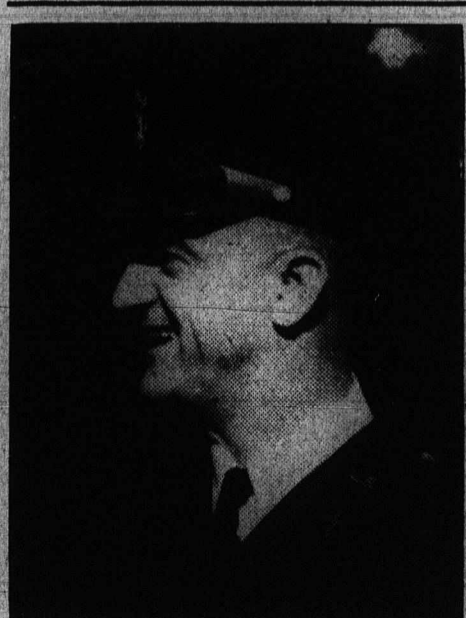

Dancing will commence at approximately 9:30 p. m. and end about 12:30 a. m.

Rev. Gilbert Esser Here For Visit Last Weekend

Returning to the campus and surroundings where he has spent so many years of his life, both as student and professor, Fr. Gilbert Esser C.P.P.S., last week renewed old acquaintances and established many new ones.

On furlough from his duties as post chaplain at Fort Devins, Mass., Captain Esser spoke briefly and interestingly to an assembly in the College Theatre, Friday evening, before the performance by Loring Campbell.

Captain Esser spoke of army life and its various needs, particularly that of army chaplains. Fr. Esser also urged the students to continue their education as far as possible. Said Fr. Esser in part, "I want you college men to stay in school, to proceed with your education so as to be better prepared for the problems that are to come after this conflict."

The

DRIFT

(Editorial)

Thursday, January 29, is the feast of St. Francis de Sales, patron of the Catholic Press and Soldier of God. Well-chosen, indeed, for this patron is the simple—yet great—man of God. He was born to the aristocracy yet managed to be with all men equal.

To St. Francis fell the difficult task of combating the newly-sown work of Luther and Calvin. He fought the encroaching evil with his pen and from the platform. His work bears a certain earnest simplicity which should ever be the goal of the journalist. To him, then, we say: Guide us, protect us, St. Francis.

Through the medium of the Catholic Hour, Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen has been urging his listeners to visit their places of worship at least once every day that Peace may find its way back into the troubled world. His message goes to Catholic, Protestant, and Jew alike. To the Catholic Father Sheen says: "Mass and Communion every morning. To the Protestant and Jew he recommends a daily visit to church or synagogue."

It is an easy argument that Monsignor Sheen makes. An easy argument and a logical one. Among all men—save perhaps those who have shut God from their hearts—going to church when one is confused is as natural as any act. Going to an all-loving, all-just God when troubles weigh heavily on our shoulders is the best and simplest remedy.

A "VICTORY BICYCLE" which uses a minimum of those materials deemed scarce in the present emergency will be produced in quantity during the coming year. The bicycle will serve as a commuting vehicle for businessmen who will be unable to use their cars because of fuel or rubber shortages.

In a way we are glad to see the bicycle coming back into use as a definite means of transportation not strictly reserved on the entertainment list. We do not think that this represents a backward step in our country. On the contrary, it is, we think, a forward step.

There is quite a lot of difference between riding to work in a warm car and battling the elements in the open air of a bicycle. Going back to bicycles is one sure way of raising our physical standards. Those who have long contended that the modern generations are going "soft" may view this resurgence to bicycles with a fine air of satisfaction.

Following the Flickers

With Dick Schreiber

It might be worthy of mention here that Judith Anderson will appear in a motion picture at the Palace entitled "Lady Scarface." Unless this writer has his names mixed up, this is the same Judith Anderson who is starring on Broadway with Maurice Evans. Anderson and Evans are doing a new version of Shakespeare's Macbeth.

We might inform you that you may have a feeling of slight revulsion upon seeing "Lady Scarface." As the title implies, Miss Anderson's characterization is anything but pleasant. It does, however, give you an idea about her versatility. Perhaps she intends to rival John Barrymore, heaven forbid!

RITZ: Friday and Saturday—Frederick March and Martha Scott are cast together in a beautiful picture about a Methodist minister, called "One Foot In Heaven." Legion Rating: A-1.

Having been present at a showing of "One Foot In Heaven," this writer assures you that it is a most inspiring 108 minutes. It has its amusing moments, its sad ones, and its powerful moments.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—M-G-M, at the insistence of all clean-minded fans and the Legion of Decency, has re-made and re-issued "Two Faced Woman," starring Greta Garbo and Melvyn Douglas. Legion Rating: B. Personally, we don't care for made-over pictures. Perhaps this one will be different.

PALACE: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—Director Mervyn LeRoy found Lana Turner sipping a soda in a Hollywood drug store. He then went through the long process of "discovering" her and now she appears, with Robert Taylor, in "Johnny Eager." Legion Rating: A-2.

This is the story of a ruthless killer who pinned a murder on the only girl he ever loved and was sorry—too late. Also in the show are Edward Arnold and Van Heflin, the latter formerly of Orson Welles' Mercury Theatre Group.

RITZ: Wednesday and Thursday—As powerfully dramatic as when she played Scarlett O'Hara in GWTW, Vivien Leigh now comes to the screen with husband, Laurence Olivier, in "That Hamilton Woman." Legion Rating: Unavailable.

As Britain's Lord Nelson, you'll find Olivier as stiff and unbending a bore as ever strode the silver screen. As his lover, the broken, shamed, Hamilton Woman, you'll love Vivien Leigh. Maybe you'll wonder, as we did, how a husband—even an acting husband—could treat his wife so coldly. Good dramatic stuff.

❖ Campus Capers ❖

What Ho!! And another issue of STUFF is solemnly slapped out . . . This past week has been as a whole uneventful . . . it merely shaped the lives of a few fellows as future deck scrubbers . . . it also shaped the lives of quite a few others in different ways after those grades get home . . .

Some things have happened since we have been in Puma lair but one of the most surprising of the "swept you off your feet" variety comes in the form of news of Norbert (Knobby) Walsh . . . It seems that he attended a high school in 1940 in Louisville . . . At least his ring did (past tense) show that . . . For a complete accounting of it we'd suggest Dr. English's office for consultation . . . And while we are in that office we won't mention Smooty Stan Lapsys, for if we're not mistooked (English dept. please note) Dr. Gwin's office is there . . .

Last week we devoted quite a bit to the Commerce Club Clambake in Joliet . . . Now, however, the attention is to the mails for some something dated the thirteenth . . . One person in particular—Charles (Suds) Sudrovech is literally and figuratively 'cravin' an invite—but even his vocabulary that rivals Valone's isn't of any avail . . .

Wonderment as to whether or not that machine parked on the sidewalk of the high school uptown the nite of the Navy ceremonies was a new 'squad' car or not . . . Yeah! we know—Tanks—and you're welcome . . .

We wonder what Bernie and Mauri are going to think after they find out that one of Father Baechle's white rats has the cognomen of 'Jasper'?? Although our radio has been off permanently for the past 8 days (profs, please note) we have heard rumors that Horace Heidt's former guitarist, Alvino Rey, has turned out a new record worth noting in 'I Said No' . . . and if you're in Lunghi's with no one to spend that extra nickel on try Dinah Shore's 'Miss You' . . . or pull a Goldcamp (Shylock II) and put it in the mattress of your bed . . . Really though about Dan—'Operatio sequitur esse'—the operation of a thing will disclose its nature' . . . Sorry to say that we have about five personages of note to say that when Goldcamp walks there is a louder squeak than Benchik . . . Or is that metaphysically impossible, Bivenour???

Military Training In College Sounds Good To Students

By John Ford

There have been some well-founded hopes that St. Joseph's College would be able to offer R.O.T.C. training to the students. The present crisis has raised those hopes, and from various sources we learn that there is a possibility that Collegeville may see such a training unit formed here.

This week STUFF went to the students to discover what their reaction would be to such a move and at the same time inquire as to what kind of unit they would like to see formed.

Bill Daily, a freshman from Loo-gootee, Ind., expressed his view thus: Such a move would be of great aid to the student in so far as it would demand that he receive a certain amount of exercise. It would help give the boy necessary balance.

"I believe that it would teach a boy to be neat and would help him to have a pride about his personal appearance. Regulations, I believe, demand that the potential officers be neat." This was the view expressed by Victor Fox, a sophomore from Cleveland, Ohio.

John Boehm, a freshman from Saginaw, Mich., stated that he believed such a move would be beneficial because it would acquaint boys with military life, and since now it seems that an army career faces each of us, it would be most helpful.

"Since so many of the State Universities are offering such an opportunity for the boys it would be well if many or all of our Catholic colleges could obtain units. St. Joe would be especially fine for such a movement." This, the opinion of Jack McKenna, a freshman from Kankakee, Ill.

Fred Hughes, a sophomore from Rockford, Ill., said that he felt that each boy would merit by such a move, as he would learn discipline and at the same time obtain a certain amount of exercise.

So went the opinions. All seemed to favor such a move. As to the kind of unit they would prefer, it seemed to be a tie between the infantry and artillery.

Partly through the untiring efforts of Jim Ikoic, Phase, the college yearbook, made its first appearance last year. Although Jim was only the sports editor, he wandered far from the field and proved a vital factor in the publication of the annual. This year Ike, as he is known about the campus, is the editor of the publication. Much of his time has been spent in the direction and publication of the second edition of Phase, which will probably be off the press in April.

This natural leader comes from Gary, Indiana. He is an alumnus of Hammond Central Catholic High School, where he participated in both football and baseball.

When Jim came to St. Joe, he didn't forget these sports. He played three years on the baseball squad and one on the football aggregation. Earning his J in baseball, Ike is a member of the Monogram Club. For the last two years Jim has represented his class on the Student Council. This year he was named president of the organization.

Jim has a bright future. He has already completed his requirements for graduation. He has a job awaiting him in the engineering department of a Gary steel mill. As he is an accounting major, Jim's job will in some way or other be related to this field. Then, on February 14, Ike will be united in holy wedlock.

Great Lakes Five Takes St. Joe 68-48

Valparaiso Next On Pumas' Basketball Card

Puma Prints

By Bill Carlos

Bernie Hoffman's 31 points against Rider College in the fieldhouse a week ago Monday night was a new St. Joe Senior College record and it tied the all-time school record.

Since St. Joseph's was turned into a senior college, a few years back, Neal Mosser's 28 points against Ill. Wesleyan last year was the highest total amassed by a St. Joe netman until Hoffman's big night against Rider. However, going back to the night of March 6, 1923, we find that another basket star of these premises—also bearing the old St. Joe name of Hoffman—chalked up 31 markers as the St. Joe five swamped Weidner Institute, 51-15. This fellow, who held the school's undisputed high scoring record for 19 years is now the Rev. Alphonse Hoffman.

The Puma cage squad holds the distinction of being the first team to get a return game with Great Lakes. Notre Dame will get their second crack at the Sailors two weeks hence in the Chicago stadium.

Last Friday, when St. Joe's boxing team fought Illinois Tech in Chicago, Coach Hod Parker was only able to place six men in the ring. Chauncy Cavey, lightweight, could not fight because of boils, and there was no one to represent the Pumas in the 112, 118, 175 or heavy-weight divisions. Hod would like to see some candidates out for these berths. He invites any boy out who is interested in boxing, regardless of weight.

There is no reason why more don't answer the boxing call at St. Joe. Boxing is highly recommended by Army officials as a body builder. We should all want to be in the best physical condition to serve our country and deal the Axis the death blow. Jack Dempsey says that the surest defense against Japanese jujitsu is a good right hand, and there's no better time to develop it than the present.

Mauri Gutsell, the lone senior on Dienhart's cage team, is out after his fourth letter in basketball, and will be gunning for his fourth monogram in baseball this

Game In Fieldhouse Next Tuesday Night Renews Old Rivalry

A full week of rest will be behind the Pumas next Tuesday night as they entertain our neighborly rivals of Valparaiso University in the Collegeville Fieldhouse. The game will mark the sixth home appearance of the Pumas this season in their new athletic monument. (To date the Pumas have not lost a home game.)

Valpo started the season with a 34-24 victory over Elmhurst College. Loren Ellis, Valpo's new cage coach, opened his initial season with an inexperienced but fighting ball club. The fight spirit seems to be the backbone of Valpo's endeavors to date and is liable to be the cause of a few upsets during the current season.

Ellis is not in the habit of announcing starting lineups but here is a probable starter for Valpo: Dumler and Miller, at forwards; Koenig, center; and Mueller and Mierendorf, at guard.

James Millikin will be here on Saturday, January 7. The Pumas will round out their current home stay against Indiana State on the following Monday, January 9. More about these two tilts in next week's edition.

Boxers Bow In Opener Against Illinois Tech.

Illinois Tech defeated St. Joseph's boxing team, 4-2, in the Puma's season opener at Chicago last Friday. In six bouts the Puma Pugs won one, lost three, and two were a draw, awarding one-half point to each team.

Captain Bob Cavey scored the only St. Joe victory, knocking out Dimat of the Chicago team, after 30 seconds of the second round had elapsed. Cavey kayoed his man with a hard right hook to the head after flooring him for the nine count with the same punch seconds before. The fight was at 135 pounds.

Two close battles involving Bill Carlos, 150, and Ed McQuillan, 160, from St. Joe against Erickson, 148, and Martinek, 164, of Tech were called a draw by Referee Fitzpatrick, a CYO official. Ellis (I.T.) decisioned Jimmy McKenna (S.J.) at 130 pounds; La Civata (I.T.) decisioned Dick Kindig (S.J.) at 140 pounds; and at 145 pounds, Simpson (I.T.) was awarded a disputed T.K.O. over Vasco Luchi of St. Joe after 1:57 minutes of the first round.

The Collegeville boxers will journey to Valparaiso for their second start of the season, February 3.

Spring, when he pitches for the Puma nine.

Hoffman and Gutsell, St. Joe's No. 1 and No. 2 scorers, are both noted for flunking eye tests.

State Boxing Tournament At Valpo. U. March 13-14

Valparaiso University will be the scene of the State Inter-collegiate Invitational Boxing Championship bouts to be held on March 13-14, it was announced last week. The Championship circuit is open to all collegiate boxers in the State of Indiana.

Among those already listed as prospective entrants in the annual fistic classic are Notre Dame, Purdue, St. Joseph's, Indiana State, Valparaiso, and Culver. Two days of continuous ring action are anticipated by the Valpo Athletic Department headed by Coaches Dauer and Schwiebert.

St. Joe Meets Valpo

St. Joe will meet the Valpo team one week from today, Wednesday, February 4. Valpo boasts three returning vets in Fritz Mueller, Elroy Bruss, and Arnold Barth. Intensified training has been the plan for general adoption among the Puma pugs since their seasonal debut in Chicago last week. With this state meet not far off, and these preliminaries on the schedule, intensified training PLUS will have to be adopted in the camp if St. Joe has hopes of taking any state fistic honors.

Frosh Lose To Butler 37-24 Last Thursday

St. Joseph's freshman cage team fell below the .500 mark as they lost their second game in three starts to the freshmen of Butler University by a 37-24 score last Thursday night in the Puma Fieldhouse.

Starting out in fine fashion it looked for a while as though the Puma Frosh might topple their highly-touted opponents. They held a commanding lead until just before halftime, when the Butlerites sank a fielder to take a 16-15 edge at the horn.

From there on in Butler kept the lead except for a short time when the score was knotted at 28, after a brace of buckets by Mullen. The Pumas threatened again late in the game, but Butler staved off the rally to emerge victorious.

Mullen Is High Man

Barcliff and Lockwood led the Butler scoring with 12 and 8 points, while Mullen and Gil Hodge were high for the Pumas with 10 and 9.

Coach Henry Kosalko led off with C. Hodge, G. Hodge, Schrenk, Mullen and Schoder at the starting posts; he substituted freely during the struggle.

As the freshmen are allowed but six games through the season, three remain to be played. The next will be a return engagement with the Butler freshmen, at Indianapolis, next Saturday.

Cubs Conquer Goodland But Fall Before Odell

Leading all the way, St. Joseph's Cubs trounced Goodland by the score of 25-14 Monday night, January 19, for their seventh win in fifteen starts. Score at half time saw the Cubs in front 15-4. Snake Brading again took high honors for the Cubs with eight points, followed by Richert and Schmelter with three.

Sunday afternoon, January 25, the Cubs traveled to Odell, and were defeated there in a thrilling battle, 30-28. The game was not five seconds old when Greene sank one, to put the Cubs ahead. They never relinquished the lead until the fourth quarter. With 30 seconds left to play and Odell ahead 30-26, Millae sank a basket from the circle.

St. Joseph's retrieved the ball time after time in the few seconds left but failed to score. Brading again took high honors with 12 points.

Naval Quintet Held Pumas At Bay Twice In Current Season

Lieutenant Russel Cook gave his cagers special orders for full steam against the Pumas last Monday night as the Navy All-Americans took a decisive victory from the St. Joe five, 68-48. The game was played in Gary's Memorial Auditorium for the benefit of the American Red Cross Association.

The boys in Blue were out to get the Puma skins in this battle. Dienhart's methods almost licked the Navy in the first tilt which was lost in a last minute naval rally, 52-48.

Navy Starts Scoring

It was the Navy who scored the opening points. St. Joe tied it up early in the game but the sailors ran up a determined 35-24 lead by the half time whistle. They held the leading margin throughout the second period.

Andres led the sailors' attack with seven field goals and one free toss for a total of 15. It was Hoffman with 15 and Gutsell with 14 for the Pumas.

St. Norbert's Game

St. Joe dropped their sixth game in 13 starts to the Green Knights of St. Norbert's College at West Deper, Wisconsin, last Thursday night, 55-53. The Pumas defeated the Knights 43-26 in their first meeting.

The Norbert five edged out a 30-29 lead at the close of the first period. During that opening session, the lead changed hands no less than twelve times and was in the tie state at six stages. St. Joe tied up the ball game 30-30 at the opening of the second period. Wondrash, playing above par at forward, sank a field goal to give the Knights the lead, which they held to the end. A last effort by the Pumas, which started when Norbert's held a nine-point lead with only two minutes of playing time left, was stopped short by the final whistle.

Bob Wondrash was high scorer for the evening, with a twenty-six point total. Mauri Gutsell, the only senior on the Puma roster, was high for St. Joe, with eight field goals and five free tosses for 21 points.

The Academy Corner

By Joe Collier

The Academy yearbook is on the verge of being an actuality. Rev. Bernard Scharf C.P.P.S. announced at a meeting of the staff, Tuesday afternoon, January 20, that according to latest returns the prospect looms very bright for the yearbook. So, with the thought in mind that the yearbook is an actuality, the Academy students unite heartily to thank all the patrons and subscribers for the yearbook, and fervently hope that it lives up to all expectations.

In the last issue, because of the lack of space, the remaining Staff members were not mentioned, so, with the customary apologies to the members for their cheerful attitude of having their names held over to this issue, we now announce them. The contributing editors of each class are Mike Cody, James Dobe, and James Quinlivan, from the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes, respectively. Joe Collier is the sports editor, with Bob Meiners acting as his assistant. Bob Millea is the chairman for all dances and such festivities. Paul Wehrle is the writeup man for the various clubs and organizations within the Academy. Bob Schmelter is the local editor.

Under the program for accelerated education, many familiar faces in the senior class will be seen no more. According to latest statistics, nine of the senior class are entering the college here, the lucky fellows being Sal Corso, Tom Anthony, Paul Wehrle, Don Tonner, Max Schmidt, Leo Moran, Joe Wolford, Dean Stulmeuller, and Bob Gross. Jock Henry is going to a job waiting for him, and three or four have not made up their minds definitely as to what they are going to do. This will make a noticeable decrease in the senior class, but as all the fellows who are leaving will be eligible for high school sports and any student activities within the Academy, everything will practically be the same. It's a lucky break and the rest of the Academy hope that they go far in college as they have done here.

The Fourth Round is over in the I-M circles. Quinlivan's team captured the round by defeating Stulmeuller's team in the playoff, 22-14, after both teams had been tied at the ending of the round. This makes three rounds for Quinlivan's team; with the usual alacrity we pick them to win the fifth, sixth, and seventh. Leo Moran from Tom Fox's team gained high scoring honors with 65 points in five games.

Here and There

Bob McNamara is a shade paler from constant worry that the White Sox may trade Luke Appling, their reliable shortstop.

Robert Gross, the chemist, is behind the times with his discoveries, because Joe Wolford was found to be the missing link 16 years ago.

Lefty Gavin actually studying. Julius Caesar (alias Vincent) is no longer historically minded, ask him.

Heard in Public Speaking—A malefactor is a benefactor.

Heard everywhere—Joe Probst's and Johnny Wunderlich's hilarious laughter at wasting one of Jerome Lange's flash bulbs. Jerome just don't know where he can get another eleven cents.

All Men From 20 To 45 Will Register For Draft

In accordance with the revised Selective Service Act, all St. Joe men between the ages of twenty and forty-five will register for military service February 16.

Men who have registered on previous conscription dates will not be required to register again.

Sanguinist Club Elects Officers This Thursday

An important meeting of the Sanguinist club for Catholic Action will be held tomorrow night (Thursday) at 7:50 in Science Hall.

It has been announced that election of officers of the coming semester will be held and important plans discussed for the ensuing months.

Attention will be given to the plans for an especially impressive display for Catholic Press Month.

Curtain Club Election Sees Kuhns Made Prexy

One of the most interesting Curtain Club meetings of the year was held Sunday, January 25, in the auditorium of Science building.

The meeting was opened with a variety of private programs. Roman Rodak played a number of selections on the accordion. The fifth year quartet sang "Stout Hearted Men." Following this a skit in one act was dramatized by several members of the club. Paul Aumen then sang a solo, accompanied by Harold Bundy at the piano. Last on the program, Francis O'Donnell and Dominic Gerlach sang three songs in cowboy style.

Elect New Officers

The beginning of another semester entailed the election of new officers for the club. Those elected were: Clement Kuhns, president; Cornelius Fenton, vice-president; Leonard Burghart, treasurer, and Ralph Bushell, critic. Those elected to the executive committee were Bernard Mullen, Anthony Teolis, and Robert Silk.

Farley Stamp Club Asks New Members

At a meeting of all the members Friday night, January 23, the Farley Stamp Club pictures were taken for the 1942 year book. Because of Father Martin's absence, Fr. Gilbert Esser, moderator of the club last year and now a chaplain in the army, took Fr. Martin's place.

At a short meeting directly after the pictures, plans were discussed to increase the membership for this semester. Meetings promise to be more entertaining and more interesting. New students on the campus, interested in philately, should see Fr. Martin or John Risch, president. Elections will be in order for the next meeting. Notices of all meetings will be posted in the various halls.

Defense Committee Formed On Campus

A three-man faculty board has been appointed by the V. Rev. Aloys Dirksen, C.P.P.S., St. Joseph's president, to cooperate with civilian defense workers here on the campus.

Members of the board are: the Revs. Rufus Esser, C.P.P.S., chairman; Carl Nieset, C.P.P.S., and Norman Koller, C.P.P.S. The committee will endeavor to strengthen civilian morale on the campus and coordinate the work on the campus with that being carried on all over the country.

A meeting will be held next week to make plans to carry out the desires of the defense heads.

Magician-Ventriloquist Makes Hit In Theatre

Leaving an audience with faces revealing amusement, distrust, amazement, and wonderment, Loring Campbell, magician and entertainer, gave a brilliant performance in the College Theater last Friday evening, January 23.

Combining magic, illusions, and clever ventriloquism along with a humorous monologue, Mr. Campbell continued to present such attractions as the mysteries of the multiple golf balls, Chinese rings and other stunts of the same calibre.

Jerry, the dummy for Campbell's ventriloquism, caught the favor of the entire gathering.
